A Suggestion

All Evergreen are improved by shearing. This may be done by anyone at any time of the year, preferably heaviest shearing in the early spring.

Don't allow your Evergreens to get out-grown before starting to shear, but rather, keep them evened up and sheared when they reach the size you like them best.

Your Evergreens will retain their color better, if they go into the winter wet, winter watering is advisable if there is not enough winter moisture.

For those who wish expert shearing, we offer this service.
